Built-in security solutions for specific market sectors

Black Box Solution

Working closely with The Eric Wright Group over the last 10 years we have built an in-depth understanding providing tailored solutions and systems for different security risks involving many market sectors. We are accustomed to working alongside architects, engineers, contractors and approval authorities on site to discuss and rectify any issues.

One particular sector of work we are proud to be involved with for The Eric Wright Group are the NHS Lift Projects. We have worked on a number of different building projects providing bespoke system solutions and engineering expertise to a variety of customer specifications.

Conclusion

We maintain control over the installation and commissioning of all our systems, in order to ensure quality and on time completion.

All systems are installed and certificated to the latest standards including off site monitoring for both intruder alarm and CCTV systems. The access control is PC based and meets all relevant requirements.
