Integrated Systems

Need to integrate different security systems?
Black Box Security have the solution.

A particular strength of Black Box Security is our ability to integrate security systems, whether they be linked security systems (e.g. CCTV monitoring for Access Control purposes) or combined fire and security systems linked to a Building Management System.

System integration - optimising resources

Many facilities rely on a combination of systems and technologies to provide effective security. Where these systems are able to interact there are opportunities to provide more effective operation and reduce the resource required to manage each individual system.

The benefits of integration are not limited to security systems. Comprehensive cost effective facilities management become possible when security systems are combined with building management. Black Box Security provides a 'one-stop' capability for the design, engineering and installation of combined security, fire detection and building management systems.
